

DR DIEGO

Melissa Grey & David Morneau, Diego Vásquez

DR DIEGO bursts into bloom from the seeds of classic deep house, disco, chiptunes, and baroque organ music.

Diego Vásquez's clarinet and Melissa Grey & David Morneau's vintage handheld synthesizers swoop and spin and soar like reflections from a mirror ball until they metamorphose into a pulsating processional that pulls us out the door and into the vibrant sunshine.

Diego Vásquez is a clarinetist-dancer who approaches all his music making from a deep connection with the body.

Diego is Principal Clarinet of Berkshire Opera Festival (MA) and Norwalk Symphony (CT), and performs regularly with regional orchestras in New England.

Diego attended the Lucerne Festival Academy (CH) as a clarinetist in 2016 and as a dancer-mime soloist in 2017-18 for Stockhausen's INORI. In 2019, he performed Stockhausen's UVERSA [basset-horn, electronics] at Zelyonka Space Up, Ukraine's largest modern dance festival.
